SC 45th in child-well being & 2nd in domestic violence (60% link to child abuse). Let's address!

More manufacturing apprenticeship programs

Eradicate the stigma against tech schools - there are many opportunities outside of 4-year degrees

Get children involved in career pathways as early as middle school.

Create a forum for stakeholders to communicate

Encourage legislators to streamline and simplify funding for education so that it may be understood

Incorporate "green infrastructure" in future plans

Set up and fund programs to teach financial literacy to high schoolers whether in or out of school.

Tie support for renters and home owners to financial literacy education programs.

Encourage methods that improve air quality as well as save money- i.e. carpooling/ban clear cutting

Provide support for car repairs thru low-interest lending until reliable mass-transit exists.

Support Community Works-Carolina's programs to help folks purchase viable transportation.

Institute an interest rate cap on lending to drive out predatory lending.

Eliminate predatory lenders who prey on the least able to sustain themselves economically.

Mass-transit system so half workers' income isn't spent on cars, insurance, gas, repairs, etc.

Create and fund more career pathways that seamlessly transition students into technical fields.

Cherokee County's KNOW2 education initiative is showing great promise.

Future transportation needs must be addressed with parties from S.C, N.C. and Georgia.

Greater cooperation among educational institutions and think-tanks.

Invest in road improvement and infrastructure needs. Plan.

Foster more integration of local Universities with community and business.

public high school, college and business combine for regional technical training centers

Promote tech colleges to better emphasize associate degrees and skilled trades.

Create a sense of value in being educated on something for all members of the population.

Collaboration between leadership of business and elected officials

Strengthening families and the home

Consider increasing fuel tax.
